Chacco's Fallen Angel

£ 15,000

Description

Storm is a very sought after type being only 15.2hh he is the ideal horse for a competent teen or small adult to move onto from ponies. He is well bred by Chacomo Agostini who has the infamous chaco blue in his lineage. Storm is well bred, well related and has the talent and quality to match. Storm has been out to fair few shows and competitions and has also competed affiliated BS at british novice and discovery level, proving to be very willing over fences as well as having the talent and scope to go on further. He has had a good start in his ridden education. On the flat Storm is a lovely quiet straightforward ride, with auto changes and he has started his lateral work. He would do a lovely dressage test, with 3 well balanced uphill paces and a very positive attitude. Storm has also been out cross country schooling, he is straight to a fence and forward thinking. He covers the ground well and would certainly be a good candidate for this years upcoming eventing season. Out hacking Storm is happy alone and in company, he is good in traffic and in open spaces and does enjoy getting out. Storm is good to load, catch shoe and clip, he can at times come across a little nervous and would really suit a home where he can be adored. There is no mallice in him. He is currently for sale on behalf of the owner who requires a bigger horse than storm. £15,000
